June 12, 2022 – ALL SAINTS SUNDAY

Glory to Jesus Christ!

Brothers and sisters,

In today's epistle reading from the Book of Hebrews, we hear of a "cloud of witnesses". It's an impressive cloud of witnesses, and it's an encouraging image of the Church. But the image of a cloud of witnesses represents not just one congregation, or one denomination, but the communion of the faithful throughout time! It includes all who have gone before us, and all who will follow behind us! It includes those who have left us a heritage of faithfulness as well as those to whom we will leave a heritage of faithfulness.

The image of a cloud of witnesses is a wonderful image to describe the Church, and on a day that we celebrate All Saints Sunday, I would invite you to reflect upon a lingering question. The Letter to the Hebrews presents an impressive cloud of witnesses, but to whom does this cloud of witnesses, witness? In short, all the saints and all of us witness "to Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith". May He always be the One to whom we witness as well.

God's blessings,
Fr. Andre
